

Why does Krazy Klothes have so many fabrics? The owner of the company asks that same question every day. The answer is that Krazy Klothes is in so many markets that we need to carry such an inventory. Krazy Klothes is always trying to stay on the cutting edge of fashion. What is hot in the west coast might not be what people are wearing in the Midwest.

Why does Krazy Klothes manufacture its own product? We can offer great turn around on custom orders. If a customer places a group order and requests one pair of lounge bottoms with an added 3 inches to the length (for the tall volleyball player) than it is made for that one customer. Also, KK can control its quality of the garment being produced. You can count on the size of the garment to be consistent from year to year. Boxer crap companies can not offer this service.

Why does Krazy Klothes have unique sizing? We offer combined sizing on certain items so it helps the distributor and retailer with limited SKUs.

Why has KK been in business for 18 years when so many of its competitors gone out of business? Krazy has and always will strive on quality fabric and the construction of a first quality garment. Unlike other boxer crap companies, KK purchases Portuguese flannel which is the best in the world. Although it costs more the shrinkage is less than other countries flannel.

Can samples be returned? Samples can be returned unless you took advantage of the HALF PRICE FOR SAMPLES SPECIAL. Those can not be returned.

Is Krazy Klothes part of other companies? The owner of Krazy Klothes has two other companies that specialize in leisure wear, but have their own special niches.
